An update on our Refresh Project!

Our architect continues working on the Refresh project for the Parish Centre. The emerging proposals are very much along the lines we have already presented to the community and our congregation. We will provide an update at the Garden Party – do come along on 21st September.

If you have a submission for our November issue or any other feedback, please email them to pbuchanpc@gmail.com.

An observation from one of your deliverers!

I wasn't aware of the complexities of letter boxes until I began delivering St Matthnews along a Victorian street in the parish. I had thought that all post boxes were like mine, about eight inches long in the middle of the door and sufficiently wide to take a newspaper or even a slim paperback. There were a few like that in the street where I delivered but not many. Some letter boxes were so tiny that St Matthnews had to be folded very small, others were so low down that they required me to kneel. Then there were those terrifying brushes that indignantly fight back against intruding posts or fingers...
